Your Share Of The National Debt? $473,456 per household! Thanks George!

by Michael in New York on 10/04/2004 03:23:00 PM

USA Today has a substantive, straightforward article about the ballooning annual deficit and staggering US debt that's about to come home to roost.

"The long-term economic health of the United States is threatened by $53 trillion in government debts and liabilities that start to come due in four years when baby boomers begin to retire," says USA Today.

"The "Greatest Generation" and its baby-boom children have promised themselves benefits unprecedented in size and scope. Many leading economists say that even the world's most prosperous economy cannot fulfill these promises without a crushing increase in taxes — and perhaps not even then."

The Supreme Court, two failing military occupations, loss of integrity and respect around the world -- add overwhelming financial irresponsibility to the mix of reasons to vote for Kerry.
