

Don't forget

We hope you did not carelessly drop this week's full color special Applause pullout section from today's Alligator. The ever-diligent Applause staff worked their fingers to the bone to bring you this entertainment-packed issue, complete with an in-depth interview with U2, exclusive pictures of the Sean Penn-Madonna marriage ceremony and coupons for free beer from every bar in Gainesville. If you can't find it, go back to where you picked up the paper and look on the ground.

Well, seriously, folks, we just decided to take off for spring break a day early. Not too many of us will be in Gainesville next week anyway so what do you care what's going on? See ya.
