

Cult movie fans find midnight alternative

By Denise M. Reagan

It's late. Really late. And you're bored. Really bored. What's a UF student to do? Or any Gainesvillian, for that matter?

You could go to a midnight movie at the mall, but their "discounted" prices ($3.75) still leave quite a hole in the poor student's pocket.

Your options were limited until this semester with the advent of the Midnight Movie Cult Club at the Reitz Union

Cinema. Tickets are only $1.50 for students and $2 for the general public. The season includes avant garde films and cult classics chosen by a volunteer student committee.

Film and Video Committee Chairman Michael Giltz says student crowds attend the shows looking for a good time. Sometimes the committee provides special entertainment before the show like yo-yo competitions and joke-telling.

Giltz said the committee tries to book films students might not see anywhere else. An APPLAUSE film reviewer of almost

C O N T I N U E D P A G E 1 2

Reitz Union Cinema Midnight Movie Cult Club Schedule

Home of the Brave	Feb. 10, 11
Repo Man	Feb. 17, 18
Decline of Western Civilization 2:
The Metal Years	Feb. 24, 25
Brazil	Mar. 4
Bull Durham	Mar. 10, 11
Tucker: The Man and His Dream	Mar. 31 Apr. 1
Female Trouble	Apr. 7, 8
Koyaanisqatsi	Apr. 14, 15
Heavy Metal	Apr. 21, 22

For info call 392-RUPC.