MORTAL KOMBAT ANNIHILATION Rob-in Shou, Talisa Soto (1997, New Line, PG-13, $24.99) Forget the character

exposition. With the "Jump to a Fight" menu feature, fans can skip to "Liu Kang and Kitana vs. Smoke and the Extermination Squad" and all the other chop-socky that is the only reason that this movie exists. Extras include computer models of the creatures and set designs, with just enough examples to satisfy fans but not too many to bore those who'd rather blast monsters than study them. B —MG
