WORKING BLUE: Aristocrats.

The Aristocrats

★★★½

Lions Gate, $29.99

IT'S the filthiest joke in the history of the world. And if you are easily offended, run from this DVD. If you're not, you'll see a smartly edited look at a classic routine and the many, many comics who have put their spin on it. The many extras include full takes of the joke, fan-submitted versions and filmmaker commentary.

The Tomorrow Show with Tom Snyder: Punk & New Wave

★★★½

Shout, $29.98

TOM Snyder was one quirky, manic, late-night fixture. He seems even stranger surrounded by punk and new wave acts like the Jam, Joan Jett, Iggy Pop and Elvis Costello. Snyder doesn't seem to know the first thing about music, which makes this extra fun. Hardly classic TV, but worth putting in a time capsule.

Flightplan

★★

Touchstone, $29.99

AN absurd airplane thriller kept aloft by stellar Jodie Foster and Peter Sarsgaard. Widowed mom Foster panics when her daughter goes missing during a flight and no one believes her. The most fun comes from the most obnoxious flight crew ever.
