

GROOVY MOVIE

Filled with grotesque, beautiful images,

"Léolo" is a stunning new film from French-Canadian writer-director Jean-Claude Lauzon. It steels between a young boy's fantasy world and his equally strange encounters with bullies, bestiality, and the heretofore unexplored pleasures of liver.

Poignant, biting, and deliciously disturbing,

"Léolo" offers dark childhood memories that can't be shaken.

A FILM BY JEAN-CLAUDE LAUZON

"Strikingly original...funny, fearless, genuinely poetic. A real crowd pleaser."
—JOSH MARSH, THE NEW YORK TIMES

"A magical fever dream of imagination, poetry and love."
—MARTIN SCARLETT, LOS ANGELES TIMES

"Dark, witty, highly inventive...it ranks with Truffaut's '400 Blows'."
—DAVID RAY, CHICAGO TRIBUNE
